

Extract from Mirror Twins

It was with more than a little trepidation that she led the way through the tunnel, the Stanton sister following her closely, and into the room of magic. The Stanton sister glanced around, Jasmin watching her closely. If the look was filled with awe, it could be Rebecca. If the look was pinpointed to certain devices that Andi had tried, it could be Andi.

The look was neither. It was an all over glance around, taking stock of the room. The smile she had gave away nothing.

"So..." The Stanton sister pulled off her top, revealing her lack of a bra, or even the bra Andi had been made into. Had Edward had time to restore her?

"Which trick will we try first?"

"I... umm..." Come on Jazz, focus. You're the queen of this stuff, act like you're in control and not worried that she'll be turned off by whatever trick you pick and never see you again and never speak to you and take her twin with her and- Jasmin had to stop before her mind simply exploded. "How about the rub out girl? There are a few tricks I want to try."

"Sure, why not?" The Stanton sister slid her short skirt down, revealing her lack of panties. She smoothly stepped over and started undressing Jasmin. Jasmin was too flustered to even put a fight as those beautiful hands caressed her body. She was completely naked and being both pushed and pulled into the rubout cabinet before she realized there were one too many pairs of hands on her. With a startled glance, she realized she'd been tricked. Not one, but both Stanton sisters stood in front of the cabinet, both completely naked. They smirked identical smiles and reached out as one to pull down the shade, saying in unison, "Hey, there are a few tricks we want to try too." Jasmin had only a split second to fully understand what had just happened. Rebecca had apparently arrived at night and had Edward restore Andi. The two girls had then simply dressed alike, and made sure they were never in the same room at the same time. It hadn't been one or the other; Jasmin had been flustered for over two days by both! And now, she'd been tricked and shoved in the rubout girl cabinet, and about to be-

"There," Andi straightened and tossed the towel to Rebecca. "She's erased."

"Do you think we were too evil to her?" Rebecca giggled, dropping the towel to the floor.

"After what she did to me?" Andi snorted, thinking of the days she'd spent as just a bra in a shoebox in the mail.
