

Extract from Two of a Kind

The half sisters together had restored Andi and had showed her many of the tricks inside the cave. They had even had her strapped to the pendulum while they restored Edward and had taken him to bed.

They now stood in the center of the red carpet, all three of them naked.

“Look, I think we should call it a night ourselves, I’m so tired I could sleep standing up,” Sally said, stifling a yawn.

“You rest up if you want to sis, but I’m fully awake, thanks to Edward's body.”

“And I’m just too excited to sleep now,” Andi said.

“Besides, we’ve only showed Andi some tricks. I haven’t had much fun at all.”

“I have to admit Jasmin, you have showed some amazing restraint.”

“She’s showed restraint?” Andi breathed, imagining Jasmin at full tilt.

“Yeah, sis is right. Now I want to have some real fun with you.”

Andi looked a little worried at that. Sally blinked, was there also a hint of longing and excitement in Andi's green eyes as well?

“So sis you going to rest up a bit, or stay down here for some fun?”

“Do I have a choice?”

“Do you want to leave Andi all alone down here with me?”

Sally considered that. Though it was nice to have Jasmin’s attention on someone else, she new she wouldn’t be out of the loop for long. She was also interested on what Jasmin had in mind for Edward’s cousin.

“What’s your plan then?” Sally asked.

“What and spoil the surprise for Andi, you know me better than that sis.”